

Attorney Andrew Walcoff Named Partner at Bouhan Falligant

Bouhan Falligant LLP recently announced that Andrew Walcoff has become a partner in the firm. Walcoff is a member of the firm's litigation group. He joined Bouhan from a large international firm, where he gained extensive experience representing companies and individual clients in complex cases in federal and state courts throughout the United States.

Click here to read the original article.