

Intellectual Property & Technology

Our Intellectual Property (“IP”) and Technology Practice attorneys have big firm experience to meet the most demanding IP needs.

Trademark

Bouhan Falligant has extensive experience advising clients on the clearance, prosecution, registration, protection and use of trademarks and service marks on the national and state levels in the U.S., as well as internationally. Our attorneys also prepare trademark licenses and assignments and related commercial contracts, such as sponsorship and advertising agreements.

Copyright

Bouhan Falligant regularly counsels clients on matters related to copyright law. Our attorneys are experienced in drafting and negotiating complex license agreements covering software and technology, as well as creative content. We advise clients on matters related to the protection and use of copyrighted material and the registration of copyrights with the U.S. Copyright Office.

Technology/Internet

Bouhan Falligant's attorneys are experienced in negotiating and preparing commercial contracts related to the acquisition of information technology assets and related services. The firm also counsels clients on legal issues related to the use of the Internet, mobile devices, and emerging technologies.

Litigation

Bouhan Falligant's litigation group handles disputes and litigation related to complicated, high-stakes intellectual property matters. We have experience handling copyright and trademark infringement cases, domain name disputes, and related matters
